The latter were solely occupied in counting the silver pennies poured into the treasury in rouleaux of 100, which were then placed in bags, sealed and labelled by the Treasurer s clerk. The only test of the standard of the currency applied in this numeration was, first, to mix the coinage impartially, and then to weigh each counted pound separately, 6d. each librate being allowed as the limit for any deficiency in weight; under which standard no receipts were admitted by tale. It is said that in the earliest times, --previously, that is, to the reorganisation of the Exchequer under Henry I., --the revenue of the Sovereign was answered in two forms, namely, in specie and in kind; the former drawn from judicial fines and farms of towns, and the latter rendered, at an arbitrary assessment, by the cultivators of...
