Money: Who Has How Much and Why

By Hacker, Andrew

Scribner Book Company, 1997. Hard cover. Book Condition: New. Dust Jacket Condition: New. New in new dust jacket. Sewn binding. Cloth over boards. 254 p. Audience: General/trade. From Library Journal In his best-selling Two Nations (LJ 3/15/92), political scientist Hacker examined the role of race in the social and economic life of America. In his latest work, he argues that an equally enormous financial division separates Americans. He explains why there are increasingly more individuals at the extremes of the income scale while the middle is contracting. Besides the income gap between blacks and whites, Hacker shows where immigrants stand on the income scale, and he assesses the financial disparities between the sexes. He also explores how other elements? e.g., greed, talent, and education? are factored into the income gap equation. Hacker combines detailed data on individual incomes and wealth in the United States with an exceptional analysis of economic and social class divisions. His well-researched work will interest scholars and students as well as the general public. Recommended for academic and public libraries. ? Ali Abdulla, East Carolina Univ., Greenville, N.C.
