PART I.-- GENERAL REMARKS. To prevent confusion of ideas, it is necessary to define, at the outset, the sense in which certain designations will be used in the sequel. The term, Ancient Greek, will be applied, not only to the compositions called Classical, but to all Greek writings, of whatever date, composed on the model of the classical vocabulary and grammar. The term Romaic will be confined to those popular dialects which, whensoever they arose, are known to have existed under the Byzantine empire, and which, or the like of which, are still spoken by the uneducated. The term Modern Greek will be given to that language in which the laws of the kingdom of Greece are written, and which is acknowledged by the Greeks everywhere, as their present literary dialect. The second of these terms, Romaic, is accepted, merely...
